Intervention

One of our main concerns is about progress in our dependent's lives, so if there are any regressions in behavior, we seek out any problems needing to be addressed. At TTLC we also believe that when it comes to hurdling behavioral issues, two heads are better than one.

Problem Solving Philosophy

TTLC has consulted many of the nation's top rehabilitative theorists and developed an advanced system of intervention when dealing case problems. These steps are outlined as followed.

Discovering Problems At Their Roots

- Finding precursors to behavior and implementing them with current intervention.
- Seeking out patterns in behavioral issues.
- Knowing the history and first signs of any disorder.
- Factoring in the variables of different environments.
- Understanding past treatments and medications, and looking for possible advancements of the treatment.

Treatment Options

- Behavior Management Program (Dependent and LAR permission required.)
- Psychotropic Medications (Dependent and LAR permission required.)
- Therapist/ Consultant counseling and intervention.
- Family, Case Management, and LAR involvement.
- Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA).

Training

- Psychologist or Analysis Personnel train staff to redirect negative behaviors through positive enforcement.
- Specific to individual needs.
- Unsuccessful methods will be re-evaluated and or dropped.
